

JENNIFER HOWARD

SKINCARE & MAKEUP CONSULTATION

Ladies, would you like to know more about using your own skincare and makeup products without someone trying to sell you more? Here you go!

Women spend billions of dollars annually on skincare and color products that promise a "more beautiful you." While some of this merchandise does deliver on its promises, how do you (the consumer) decide which ones are authentic and are they best for you and your skin-type?

Jennifer Howard provides excellent instruction and consultation on makeup and skincare for you.

At the end of our time together, you will be able to identify the following:

- Your face and eye shape and the best application methods for each
- Your skin type and the basic products you need
- Which makeup and skincare products you already have that are great for you
- Lots of great tips and techniques to simplify your "makeup life"
- A full-color, 18-page workbook is included for clarifying your needs, note taking and as a general reminder of the material we covered in our time together.

This consultation is a must-have if you want to stop the buying mistakes and save money and time!
